Celebrate Silver Anniversary

On Sunday afternoon, October 25, approximately 120 relatives and friends rallied surprised Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Reitan as they gathered to help them celebrate their Silver Wedding anniversary. Far-away guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fuder of Saskatoon, Ontario, came from Wainwright, Fabyan, Hardisty and Sedgewick.

Mr. Sivert Nilson as master of ceremonies led the large group in the singing of "O Perfect Love." Mr. O. Likness read a portion of Scripture. Mrs. G. Pedel sang "Bless This House" and Mrs. O. Likness read an appropriate poem on the value of friendship. A number of relatives and friends were called upon to say a few words. Then a trio composed of Miss Arlene Steffensen, Mrs. Carl Gulbraa and Mrs. Ralph Erickson sang a beautiful number.

Mr. Martin Knudson, oldest brother of Mrs. Reitan, presented the honored couple with a chest of silver from relatives and friends. On behalf of the Ladies Aid Mrs. L. Satre presented Mrs. Reitan with a silver dish.

Mr. and Mrs. Reitan confessed that they were entirely taken by surprise and thanked everyone for coming out, for their kind words, and for the beautiful gifts. A bountiful lunch brought the happy afternoon to a close.

Wedding Bells

HOLT - SAVILLE

On the afternoon of October 17, Metropolitan United Church in Edmonton was decorated with baskets of roses and glad-till for the wedding of Josephine Irma, Alberta and Philip McBride Holt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Holt of Edmonton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Reid E. Vipond B.D. S.T.M.

Mrs. Dodds, church organist, played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Charles Saville, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace and net featuring a torso fitted bodice of lace with Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves and a crinoline skirt of pleated net. Her fingertip veil of fine nylon net edged with lace fell from a sweetheart bonnet of ruffled net. Her slippers were of white suede and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a horseshoe bouquet of red roses with rosebud trimmed white satin streamers.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Lorraine Saville frocked in a ballerina length dress of maize taffeta with nylon net overskirt, cape bolero, and over bodice of net embroidered with sequins.

The bridesmaids Miss Grace Duncan had a similarly styled gown of blue taffeta and net and both wore matching half-ballerina and carried Colonial bouquets of roses and carnations. The bride's small cousin Faye Lynne Saville, was flower girl in a pink taffeta frock with nylon net overskirt and matching bandeau and mittens. She carried a blue satin basket of flowers.

Master Grant Pavely, young brother of the bride, acted as ring bearer, wearing grey trousers and white shirt with Peter Pan collar and a white carnation on his navy blue jacket.

Attending the groom was his brother, Mr. Clifton Holt and Mr. Desmond George. The ushers were Mack Holt and Charles Holt, brother and cousin of the groom.

When the bridal party had reached the altar "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mr. Fisk who also sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was served in the church hall to about 125 guests.

To receive her guests the bride's mother wore a two-piece suit of Royal Blue nylon acetate with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Holt, mother of the groom, chose a suit of grey nylon elasticized crepe with a mauve hat and red roses in corsage.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth of hand-made lace and centred by a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature ranch house and horseshoe of sugar roses and flanked by lighted tapers.

Mr. Desmond George proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded.

Mr. Clifford Saville, uncle of the bride, sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Following the reception the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to California, Arizona and other U.S. points. For traveling the bride wore a grey suit with navy top coat and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Philip and Josephine's many friends at Irma wish them every happiness.

Among the many out of town guests were the bride's great uncle, Mr. John Saville from Saskatchewan.

REBER - LAING

Sharon Lutheran Church was the scene of a lovely candlelight wedding Saturday, October 17, for the marriage of Elaine Elizabeth Laing and Leslie Edward Reber.

Pastor Lars Knudson of Sedgewick performed the double-ring ceremony for the second oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Laing of Theodore, Sask., and the eldest son and step-son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Ray) Reber of Irma, Alta.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of nylon net over satin fashioned with a Chantilly lace bolero styled coat with lily point collar and sleeves. Her bridal Half Crown of Chantilly lace and pearl lover's knot over satin held her floor length nylon veil. She wore as her only jewelry, diamond sapphire earrings, gift of the groom. Red roses, orange blossom and fern formed her bouquet.

The bride was attended by Miss Shirley Anderson, cousin of the groom and Miss Lella Laing, sister of the bride, and two flower girls, Faye Lenore Reber, half sister of the groom, and Lorna Carol Laing, sister of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of nylon net over taffeta with Chantilly lace bolero and nylon net bandeau with nosegays of rose and rust roses and orange blossoms. The flower girls wore gowns of yellow nylon net over satin and mauve nylon net of taffeta. Both wore identical half-ballerina and carried Colonial bouquets of roses and carnations.

Best men were Mr. Arnold Laing, brother of the bride and Mr. James Reber, cousin of the groom. Guests were ushered in by Mr. Gerald Reber, half brother of the groom and Mr. Albert Reber, cousin of the groom.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Marvin Reitan and Mrs. Lars Knudson, sang "Happy Home." The congregation sang "O Promise Me."

Later a reception for 62 guests was held at the groom's home.

Letter Re Legion Poppy Campaign

The Editor,
Irma Times,
Irma, Alberta.
October 26.

Dear Sir or Madam:

The time has come again when the people all over Canada will be asked to support the Canadian Legion Poppy Campaign.

The Irma Branch has set up a campaign committee to look after this vital part of Legion work in this community, and in order to facilitate their efforts, I am taking this opportunity to acquaint the public with the purpose and meaning of the Poppy Campaign.

The Flanders Poppy was adopted after the First World War as a symbol of sacrifice, and on November 11, 1922, the first Poppy Day was held in Canada. Since that time it has become an annual Poppy Day and the Canadian Legion's Annual Poppy Campaign is the only co-ordinated national appeal to the public for funds to alleviate distress among ex-service personnel and their dependents.

Each year the contributions of generous citizens to the Legion's Poppy Fund has meant material relief for thousands of needy veterans and their families.

These yearly campaigns are conducted by the Legion Branches with the aid of Provincial and Dominion Commands. The poppies and wreaths are manufactured in Vetscraft Shops of the Department of Veterans Affairs this providing employment for many disabled veterans. They are then sold to the Canadian Legion and are distributed to the Branches to be sold to the general public.

What happens to your contribution you give for your poppy each November?

After campaign costs are deducted, the remainder is retained by the Branch in your community in the form of a Poppy Fund for direct relief and welfare work among veterans and their dependents.

Each Legion Branch is therefore able to give food, clothing, shelter and actual financial assistance to veterans and their families in extreme circumstances. Approximately $275,000 was distributed in this manner in 1951 alone.

The Poppy Campaign therefore achieves three objectives—A reminder of the supreme sacrifice of our veterans; employment for disabled veterans—supplies funds for the relief of distressed veterans and their dependents.

The Irma Branch of the Canadian Legion will be conducting a vigorous campaign this year so when they ask your support for this worthwhile cause, remember—the satisfaction of helping the less fortunate runs deep.

Sincerely,
Raiph E. Góngdon,
No. 2 Zone Commander, N.E.

Northern Nuggets

Albert School was filled to overflowing both upstairs and downstairs Friday evening when Buffalo Coulee W.I. held a highly successful Chicken Supper. Following the sale of bazaar work and the kiddies' fish pond, Miss L. Tweedy of Wainwright showed films. The gathering broke up at an early hour, due to the number of small fry present. The W.I. is very grateful to all who helped make the evening a success.

Education Point pupils and teacher held a successful dance on Friday evening, to raise Christmas funds. A lovely electric lamp was raffled off with Miss Yvonne Brown being the lucky winner.

Renewing acquaintances in the district while attending the Chicken Supper were Mr. Jack Fletcher (a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ramsay), Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hay of Mannville, Mrs. O. G. Griffiths of Wainwright and Mr. David Bars.

Congratulations to the Arch-Bald sisters who won second prize at the Mannville Amateur Hour.

Mrs. A. C. Archibald was a Wainwright visitor this week, helping her daughter and son-in-law move into their new home.

Mr. Robin Johnson was a city visitor last week-end while Mr. Erie Prior made a flying trip to Edmonton on Monday.

Mrs. Clelland of Edmonton was a guest at the Louis Larson home at the week-end.

We see in the Edmonton Journal that Irma W.I. have awarded a further prize to Miss Marjory Matthews for her Cancer scrapbook.

There will be a special FUA meeting at Orbindale school on Monday evening, November 2. Since this will be the annual meeting with delegates to the provincial convention to appoint and fees to discuss, a large attendance is requested.

Pioneer Hunters Recall Days Of Unlimited Bags

(By The Canadian Press)

REGINA—Saskatchewan's 50,000 nimrod may not have as much fun as their duck-hunting grandfathers but—thanks to conservation and protective measures—they know there will be birds to shoot next year. Pioneer hunters like to tell the younger generation of that era when ducks did not fly by the grace of the government, when bags were unlimited and when conservation was a term that had something to do with the winter's meat supply.

Oldtimers recall flocks of geese automatic shotgun and live decoys so large that it took a flock 30 minutes to pass a given point. They tell of mallards splashing upwards from a meal and blotting out the sun.

Most of the tales come out of the Qu'Appelle valley where the almost legendary Jack Leander would provide luxurious entertainment for anyone who wanted a day's shooting. Anyone that is, with the right kind of money.

Leader's Point, on Pasqua lake, still is one of Saskatchewan's most popular hunting spots. Notables visiting the point have included the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, Lord and Lady Minto, Lord Byng of Vinny, and Bernard Baruch.

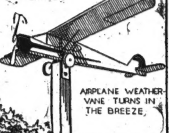

Fred Dunk, former curator of the provincial museum, describes a typical shoot in the valley in which he and a companion bagged 35 ducks in one morning and stretched to 200 birds their total for a two-day shoot.

Spring shooting was allowed, the sale of game for commercial purposes was common and bag limits and licences were unheard of.

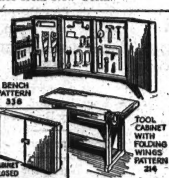

It was the era of the unplugged

Funny and Otherwise

A vivacious brunette of about 40 was standing on the promenade at Souths when she heard an admiring whistle from a very young sailor. He ambled up purposefully.

"Son," she reproved him gently, "don't try to flirt with me. I'm a grandmother."

"But, grandma," replied the undismayed sailor, "what big eyes you have!"

"I told Jim all my past history yesterday."

"Nothing. He just took out a comb and smoothed his hair down."

A man went to his doctor and requested treatment for his ankle. After a careful examination the doctor inquired: "How long have you been going about like this?"

"Three weeks."

"Why, man, your ankle's broken. Why didn't you come to me before?"

"Well, every time I say anything is wrong with me, my wife declares I'll have to stop smoking."

"I think you've met our small son John."

"Yes—how is the little fellow?"

"Does your wife have her own way in the home?"

"Well she writes up her diary a week ahead."

Brown was awakened one night by a strange moaning outside his bedroom window. After he had listened to it for some time he got up and looked out to see what was causing the weird sound.

By this time Mrs. Brown was awake, too. Sitting up in bed, she called to her husband: "What is it, John?"

"It looks like a ghost," he replied in a hoarse whisper.

"Oh, really," she asked. "Anybody we knew?"

The would-be Menhlin sat in a corner every evening with his violin. Holding one finger rigidly on the same spot, he drew the bow back and forth for hours on end.

"Henry," said his wife, "I've noticed that when other people play, they move their fingers around and use all four strings."

"Yes, I know," Henry replied. "They're looking for the place. I've found it!"

Guess what I've cooked for dinner, darling?"

"All right, dear, serve it up and I'll try."

"But, my dear," gushed the giddy girl in the railway carriage, "one must have the right clothes. When I go riding I wear a riding habit; when I go out in the evening I wear evening dress."

"Really," interrupted a man who was trying to read his paper, "And what do you wear at birthday parties?"

A visitor to the village attending church and afterwards a resident asked him what he thought of the service.

"I liked the service very much," said the visitor, "but one thing puzzled me: why did the congregation hurry out so quickly after the benediction?"

"Well," the native replied, "the sexton makes them leave their umbrellas in the porch, and those who get out late haven't much of a choice."

A husband and wife were out together when they ran into the husband's girl friend. The poor man had no way of getting out of an introduction.

The wife, acknowledging it, murmured sweetly: "My husband has told me so little about you."

"Anything new in the paper, dear?" asked the wife.

"Yes, there's been an earthquake at a town called Kneocharslan," replied her husband.

"Does it say what it was called before the earthquake?"

Average Albertan Receives Weekly Wage of $59.21

The average weekly pay cheque paid to Albertans in July, 1953, amounted to $59.21, according to figures released by the Bureau of Statistics. This is an increase of $4.73 a week over last year.

The present weekly wage paid in Alberta is the second highest in Canada, surpassed only by British Columbia's average of $64.11.

The bureau also reports Alberta has shown the largest relative increase in Canada for employment and payrolls since 1939. Employment has increased almost 140 per cent during the past 14 years, while payrolls now are 460 per cent of the 1939 average. Following Alberta are Ontario and British Columbia with increases of 100 per cent for employment and 400 per cent for payrolls over their 1939 figures.

In warm weather, bread will keep fresh and free from mold if wrapped in a vapor-proof bag, e.g. plastic bags now used for wrapping foods.

Vinegar added to the rinse water helps to brighten the glassware. A dash of vinegar added to the soapy dish water removes fish and onion odors from cutlery and dishes.

Is the soup too salty? Drop in a slice of potato and boil 5 to 6 minutes. For salty gravy add a sprinkle of brown sugar. The taste is not altered.

Plaster does not crack so readily if a small piece of adhesive tape is placed over the spot where a nail or jack is to be driven.

Lorne Lewis, Lions' New Coach Arrives

(From The Viking News)

Interest in hockey circles took a decided jump in town when Lorne (Dutch) Lewis, new coach of the Viking Lions hockey team arrived on Monday morning.

The new coach was born at MacLeod, Alta., 23 years ago. In spite of his youth he has had a varied hockey career. He was a member of the celebrated Lethbridge Native Sons from 1945 to 1948. The Native Sons represented Alberta in the Western Canada Junior finals in 1948, but bowed out to the powerful Port Arthur team. In 1949 he played with the Crows Nest team, and in 1950 was player-coach for the Yellowknife Indians. In 1951 he was with the Wainwright Commandos as a player-coach and last year was a member of the Grand Rapids, Michigan team in the International league which included such cities as Troy and Milwaukee. He has been around.

Lewis plays defence and has a lot of hockey know-how. He is busy getting acquainted with some of the hockey talent that comprised last year's Lions who were runners-up for the league championship. Hockey Ivory from Holden, Irma, Innisfree, and as far away as Barhead are expected to try out with the team as soon as there is a sheet of ice in the Carina.

United Church Bazaar October 31

The Bazaar, sponsored by the Jr. and Sr. W.A. groups of the Irma United Church, will be held in the church basement on the afternoon of Saturday, October 31, 1953.

The Junior W.A. will have charge of the Tea Tables. There will also be for sale beautiful fancy work, aprons, home baking, candy, novelties and a mystery table. Donations to the candy and mystery tables will be very much appreciated. Any parcels for the mystery table should be clearly marked showing whether for boy, girl, baby, men or woman and the price on the outside of the package. These parcels are not opened. This is a very popular table with the boys and girls and the demand generally exceeds the supply. Each member of the Sr. W.A. is asked to donate one apron, and each member of the Jr. W.A. is being asked for one novelty.

Of every dollar handled by Canada's 88 advertising agencies last year, 60 cents went to publications and 18 cents to radio and television.

Consumer Credit Problem Aggravated by Grain Tie-Up

Prairie merchants are wrestling with a growing problem of retail credit, which they say has been stretched to the danger point because of wheat storage difficulties, according to a survey by The Canadian Press.

The Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta branches of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada have placed briefs before the Canadian Wheat Board, making suggestions to remedy the situation, and have called on merchants for a "hold-the-line" stand on credit.

M. M. Wicks, secretary-manager of the Manitoba group said "this is really getting to be dynamic."

Deeper Into Debt
Meanwhile, a Bank of Canada survey shows that Canadians from coast to coast plunged deeper into debt in the first six months of 1953, the total consumer credit bill rising to a new high of $1,732,000,000, a jump of more than $500,000,000 in a 12-month period.

The crux of the difficulty on the Prairies is that farmers are not receiving enough cash to pay their bills. The 1952 record wheat crop and this year's heavy yield came as mixed blessings in that elevators are plugged and the farmers must store grain on their land.

In its brief to the wheat board, the Alberta retail merchants' organization suggested the government guarantee bank loans of up to $1,000 on grain in farm storage "to alleviate cases of particular distress and thereby make it possible for the farm trade to be in a position to pay their retail accounts."

Credit Control Asked

Written by J. Robinson, Alberta secretary-manager, the brief also recommended that all merchants "adopt a rigidly-controlled credit policy, and in all cases advise the farm trade to secure a loan from the banks to pay its commitments."

It was noted, however, that "the partial payment on this year's grain crop has not created a difficult situation in Alberta as in the other prairie provinces due to diversified farming, resulting in a better financial position here."

The earlier Manitoba brief said the 1,700 association members in that province "view with alarm" the situation where "more and more of our towns and villages are being forced into doing business strictly on a cash basis."

Must Have Cash

"This is no fault of the retailer or of the farmer. The retailer must have some cash to carry on or go out of business. The farmer has his grain but cannot sell it."

"Retailers would, only go on cash basis as a last resort. Retailers feel that our government could relieve this situation by paying cash advances to farmers for grain stored on the farm and paying storage charges to farmers on this grain."

They also urged wider choice of delivery points for grain.

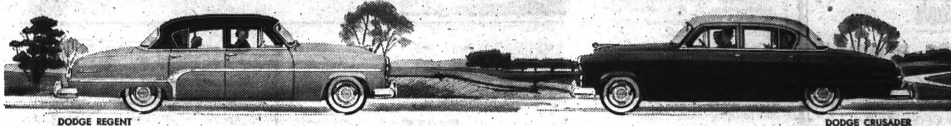

The Saskatchewan recommendations, written by Secretary-Manager R. E. Walker, are similar. They suggest that, starting November 1, farmers be paid one cent a bushel per month until the end of the present crop year for grain stored on their farms.

To Help Farmers

This payment would come out of the operating expenses of the wheat board, but would be an advance to help farmers unable to deliver grain.

Meanwhile, the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, representing the farm unions of the prairie provinces, also presented a brief to the board recommending a schedule of cash advances to distressed farmers.

The council denounced as "completely invariable and unsatisfactory" at the local level the board's quota system on wheat deliveries. It was not known immediately whether quota changes announced Wednesday would ease the situation noticeably.

Church Bells Recall B.C. Pioneer Days

WINDERMERE, B.C. — The bell that rings today in the belfry of St. Paul's Anglican Church at Golden, B.C., should be in St. Peter's church here. And St. Peter's church should be in Revelstoke.

It's a long story.

Another B.C. town, Donald, had a fine Anglican church with a fine 600-pound bell given by Baroness Burdett-Coutta, the English woman after whom a couple of Alberta towns were named.

But in 1899 the Canadian Pacific Railway decided to move its divisional point from Donald to Revelstoke, B.C. That doomed Donald and all the town's buildings were ordered removed.

Revelstoke applied for and was given authority by the diocese to obtain the church building. A crew was recruited to arrange transport but when the crew arrived in Donald, the building was gone.

Someone, apparently attached to the church, had heard it was to be moved to Revelstoke. In any case, the church was loaded on a flat car and moved to Golden, then put on a barge and taken 100 miles up the Columbia river to Windermere.

There was quite a furore about the situation but in time all was forgiven.

In the meantime the people of Windermere wanted to know what had happened to the church bell. Later it was learned that an employee of the barge company that moved the church up the Columbia was a member of the Church of England. He took a fancy to the bell and before the barge sailed, the Golden church was in possession and there it remained.

PEAK CONQUERED

JASPER, Alta.—Mount Robson, at 12,972 feet the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, has been climbed three times this year for the first time since 1938. Latest conquerors were five Californians.

The potato was found in North America as early as the 16th century.

Funny and Otherwise

"Your wife wants to send you a kiss over the phone, sir."

"Oh, take the message, Miss Smith, and give it to me later."

Foreman: "I suppose you wish I were dead so that you could stamp on my grave?"

Workman: "Not me, I hate standing in queues."

"This is a shocking report—Latin, poor; French, indifferent; Mathematics, bad; Conduct, fair."

"I admit it's not up to much, Dad. But just look at that—Health, excellent!"

The seaside landlady entered with a plateful of bread and butter so thin that her boarders gazed at her in dismay.

"Did you cut these, Mrs. Brown?" asked one.

"Yes—I cut them."

"All right—I'll shuffle and deal."

There was a scream or brakes as the bus pulled to a sudden stop to avoid a flustered-looking pedestrian who was dithering in the roadway.

Crimson with strain and rage, the driver leaned out of his cab. It was plain he was controlling himself with a great effort as he asked, politely, "May I ask what are your plans, sir?"

The scene was the office of an insurance agent. The applicant for insurance had handed in his completed form, and the agent looked over it.

"This seems all right, Mr. Jones," he said, "except for one thing. Where it asks the relationship of Mrs. Jones to yourself, you should have put 'wife,' not 'strained'."

It was "guest night in the mess, and the colonel began to tell an exciting story of an encounter with a wounded tigress which sprang at him and threw him to the ground. At the critical moment an orderly entered to report that the colonel was wanted on the telephone."

He was away for 10 minutes, and on his return had forgotten which of his favorite stories he had been telling.

"What happened, colonel?" asked one of the guests. "You were telling us of your dangerous situation."

"Oh, I kissed her," said the colonel, airily. "She simply couldn't resist me, and we dined together that evening."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Sixteenth Birthday

By MARY L. AKSIM

CHILDREN are so... She reached her mind for the word which the English teacher used so easily. Naive. That was it. All the fuss the twins were making about her birthday. As if birthdays mattered. As if anything mattered. As if it mattered that Don hadn't asked her to go to the dance tonight.

She turned full-face to the mirror above the frilled dressing table and ran a hand through her hair. She wished that the twins would stop all that giggling and rustling of tissue. They were wrapping up her present, she knew. Oh well, she supposed she would have to make the effort and act pleased anyway. And what would she do all the long evening?

There was one thing. She wouldn't let Mother and Dad and the twins go through all that childish performance of singing Happy Birthday and pretending to spank her this year. And she would come up to bed early with a good book. She would have to pretend to be very interested in books now, since there would never be any men in her life.

She clutched her hair suddenly to the top of her head in the fashion of an upswipe. Yes, that style was certainly becoming to her. She would have worn it if she had been going to the dance. And the blue dress with the nail-head glittering. Oh well. She sighed and started furiously at her image in the mirror, but the reflection was disappointing. Her face was too round to be effective in anti-anthology. She seized a comb and drew it like a rapier through her heavy locks, pushing the parted hair back impatiently. Then she wound the mass at the nape of her neck into a demure knot and held it so, studying the pose anxiously. She wondered how the other girls would wear their hair at the party. And what she would say when they asked her why she hadn't been there. She emitted an artificial cough and listened to its echo judiciously. Perhaps she was coming down with a cold and wouldn't be able to leave the house for ages and ages. Until long after the dance had been forgotten.

There was Dad, calling. What was she doing? Nothing. Nothing at all. Strange how neither Mother nor Dad had asked about the party. But what did it matter or less matter at their age?

She felt inconceivably old as she adjusted two hair bows to a bored nicety. Sixteen she reflected early in about the only age when you see things as they really are. Take her parents, for instance. They could make the twins in make-believe. She shuddered to think what the best pay—, pay—, mind specialists would say to Mother's constant reports of conversations with the fairies.

She would never tell a child about fairies. But of course, she would never be married and have children of her own, since men avoided her. She stretched her arms across the empty years after the manner of a dramatic actress she had seen once. Large round tears squeezed out from underneath her eyes as she tightened her hairbows.

She considered her mother's life as she tidied the dressing table aimlessly. No one could say that she was very beautiful. Sweet and bright, yes, but there were ever so many women more striking in appearance. Yet Dad was so very devoted to her. Certainly her mother had never suffered as she was suffering now.

And Bob had always said "we" when he talked about the dance. Why hadn't he called? Was he taking someone else? Oh, if only she could go away from this hateful place forever! she moved suddenly to the window to look out darkly at the night. Dad!

Was that the telephone? I'll answer it. Dad, please! She said she never, never reach the land-line. And when she lifted the receiver, would she be able to hear about the thumping anthem of her heart?

Oh, yes, Bob. I'd love to! Yes, yes, ready at nine. She cooed a great light sigh and turned from the telephone.

And there were Mother and Dad and the twins all looking anxiously up at her from the living-room doorway. "Is the dance?" they were worried, too?

She flew towards them and hugged them collectively and separately. The twins brought her parcels and Dad and Mother led her towards the birthday table where a cake with sixteen candles shone pink and white.

"Happy birthday to you, happy birthday to you," sang the twins with a sincerity which made up for their lack of unison.

She sighed happily. Birthdays were such fun.

AN ARROW, more than two feet long, that pierced this seagull's body has neither killed it nor noticeably hampered its activities. The photographer stalked the bird with a 15-inch telescope lens at an upstate New York lake where he obtained the pictures of the bird on the ground, (left), and in flight, (right). It was believed that the bird flew within range of archers at a nearby range.

Quadruplet Calves Set Stock Record

WEYBURN, Sask. — The quadruplet bull calves, born last September to a good grade Hereford cow owned by Nat Wolpin of Creelman has apparently established a livestock record.

According to the Canadian Hereford Digest, Calgary, "no other case of Hereford quadruplets is recorded in Canadian history, as far as can be ascertained."

The Digest carried a brief account of the quadruplet calves. It also carried an advertisement by the Canadian Hereford association using a picture of the calves, stating "Hereford is a prolific—important characteristic for profitable beef production."

Interest in the multiple births continues at a steady pace. The latest inquiry concerning the animal rarity has come from F. B. Hunt, professor of animal genetics, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

Prof. Hunt has written owner Nat Wolpin to verify press reports on the multiple births. The professor said he was particularly interested in the proportions of sexes in such multiple births in cattle.

The professor stated that "quadruplets in cattle are extremely rare, but many years ago there was a case like yours in Holstein near Brandon, Man."

In the Brandon foursome three of the calves were heifers and one a bull.

Weyburn agriculture representative A. M. Crovie said Monday that from all enquiries made, no record of quadruplet calves born to a beef type of cow where all calves have lived has been brought to light.

At last report all four calves were thriving well.

HUGE RAVEN SHOT NEAR INDIAN HEAD

INDIAN HEAD.—A yard measure wouldn't span the tip-to-tip wingspread of a huge black marauder brought down by Jack Wilson here. The bird, far from a native of these parts, was a raven. Its wingspread was a full four feet.

Mr. Wilson states the birds are common enough in northern Saskatchewan, but added that "You never see them down here." Building about the size of five or six crows combined, the bird looked for all the world like a crow that had forgotten to stop growing. Its beak was four inches long, and its legs were larger than those of a chicken. Mr. Wilson shot the bird down on the marshes at Dry Lake.

FANCY SHOOTING

HYTHE, Alta.—Hunting in the Peace river valley, L. H. Maricle reported bagging seven Canada geese and one mallard—with only two shots. Maricle was using an ordinary old 12-gauge shotgun.

Newspapers Help Make Stronger, Healthier Nation

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—O. W. Titus said recently that the daily and weekly newspapers and the periodicals of Canada are making a strong contribution towards a stronger, healthier and more united Canada.

Mr. Titus, newly elected president of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers' association, urged Canadians to give increasing attention to their own newspapers and magazines as a path to gaining better understanding of Canadian personality and achievement.

English Group To Settle In Edmonton Area

NOTTINGHAM, England.—One hundred prospective Canadian immigrants have banded together in a plan to settle in Alberta.

The group has formed an association which will charter a plane for the crossing in 18 months' time. The members are contributing to a fund to be held in reserve for Canadian rainy days and are scheduled to get to know one another fairly well before leaving.

The project should simplify adjustment in the opinion of Fred Coupland. His and his wife originated the idea, which has the blessing of Canadian settlement officials. The group plans to settle at Edmonton.

Current meeting place for the association is in a school. The principal hasn't decided yet whether he'll join the party.
